November 21 Meeting Recap
Lex Poppens, Bureau County Historical Society

Pam Pratt Marsh introduced Lex Poppens, Executive

Director for the Bureau County Historical Society. He shared the news of their newly established non-profit, the Bureau County History Center. They have the same mission: to educate the public on the history of Bureau County and the surrounding area through the collection, preservation, interpretation, and exhibit of artifacts and related materials. They have established a new logo that encompasses their three campuses - the Clark Norris Museum, the Newell Bryant Museum, and the Sash Statler Matson Building. Lex talked about recent events such as the Civil War monument constructed at the former library site and a collaboration with the Cherry Mine Disaster

GUESTS, November 21

Lex Poppens (Pam Pratt Marsh)

Museum. Lex said they have a number of renovations under consideration for the former public library, as their goal is "reuniting an old friend with its community." In 2024, they will have new exhibits and a variety of speakers and events. Lex concluded his presentation with the story of Nellie Becker, a survivor of the Titanic disaster that had ties to the Princeton community. She and her husband settled here, and he was pastor of what is now St. Matthew's Lutheran Church from 1927 until 1945. Nellie was then buried here in the family plot years later. Thanks to those dedicated to history of the area, Lex said they often uncover exciting tidbits of news that most people are not familiar with. For more information about the history of Bureau County and the History Center, contact Lex or visit www.bureauhistory.org.

On this Giving Tuesday, consider a gift to the Annual Fund to create positive change in communities close to home and around the world. Your contributions help strengthen peace efforts, fight disease, provide clean water and sanitation, save mothers and children, support education, grow local economies, and protect the environment. The Foundation will recognize the top three clubs in fundraising, donor participation, and online giving. Just be sure the gifts are made on November 28!
